

PRECISION MEDICAL PRODUCTS RESPONSE TO COVID-19:

The safety of our employees, contractors and patients during this time is paramount and Precision Medical remains committed to supporting efforts to promote safe, quality care while protecting all from the spread of infectious disease.

We pride ourselves on being a high touch patient focused company and currently continue to supply and provide service throughout our usual geographic scope. In line with current 'social distancing' recommendations from the CDC, we have modified our services from usual face to face patient supply to remote equipment delivery and patient care where possible. In the event that an in-person appointment is facilitated, be assured that our delivery technicians will follow the appropriate hand hygiene and personal protective equipment standards.

Although there is obviously considerable uncertainty ahead, we are well positioned for a brief or prolonged period of financial/societal turmoil and our company will continue to provide frequent updates regarding our operations to assure that both our customers and patient's well-being and our ongoing business activities are protected to the utmost extent possible.
